E. M. Clark, field man for the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, discussed "Dairy Type from the Herd Classification Standpoint" at the third meeting of the farm evening school to be held in Antioch Township High school Thursday, Jan. 25, at 8 p. m.

"This will be a class in the selection or judging of good-type cattle," C. L. Kutil, agriculture instructor at the high school amplifies. "No dairyman will want to miss this meeting."

Thirty-one farmers braved the swirling snow last week to attend the initial meeting and hear Dr. Paul Beamer's talk on "Mastitis Control." The subject tonight will be "Artificial Insemination."

Interested persons may attend as many or as few meetings as they wish, it is announced by Kutil. Those attending 7 out of the 10 meetings in the series will receive diplomas.

Movies' Part in War Effort Told By James Prindle

The part being played by motion pictures in the war effort, particularly in the fields of instruction and education, was graphically described by James P. Prindle, Lake Villa, in an illustrated lecture given at a "Men's Night" meeting of Antioch Township High School Parent Teacher association Monday evening in the school building.

Prindle, who is a motion picture producer and writer, used as illustrative material a movie on the building of the Shasta dam.

He also touched upon the future of motion pictures as aids to classroom instruction.

Men filling offices for the evening included George Good as acting president, Elmo Edwards, secretary; Roy I. Kufalk, treasurer, and M. M. Stillson, program chairman.

Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mmes. Arthur Trieger, chairman, Lucy Himens and Ken Ashe.

The next meeting of the P. T. A., on Monday evening, Feb. 19, will deal with "Federal Aid for Education," with R. L. Newenham, assistant Lake county superintendent of schools, as the speaker.

Had 14 Descendants in Country's Armed Service

A great source of pride to Mrs. Carolina Schultz, 85, of 6615 South Artesian, Chicago, up to the time of her death in that city Jan. 2 was the fact that 14 of her descendants were in the armed services, with almost every branch of the service represented.

Mrs. Schultz, for whom services were held Jan. 6, was the mother of Mrs. Henry Pape of Antioch, and was well known here and in Wilmet.

She was the mother of 12 children, of whom 8 are still living, and had 22 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren.

Word comes from Pfc. Richard O. Burnette in the Caribbean area that on Jan. 6 they were having another Christmas according to the natives' custom.

He says, in part, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Burnette—

"Yesterday and today are 'Three Kings' Day' here. These people say that it took until Jan. 6 for the Kings to get to Bethlehem with their presents, so that is why they have their exchange of gifts on that date."

"On the eve of Jan. 6, the children put a box full of grass under their bed, and in the morning their presents are there. The grass represents food for the camels on which, according to tradition, the three kings rode when taking their gifts to Christ."

"They also celebrate Dec. 25 somewhat like we do, because the States observe that date."

Pvt. Burnette mentioned that a steady all-day rain is rare for that area, and told how showers can be seen moving across the fields, preceded and followed with bright sunshine.

"They tell this story about the rains here:

"There were two fellows riding bi-

Books Will Become Memorial to First Antioch Librarian

This month marks the first anniversary of the passing of Miss Mary Stanley, Antioch's first public librarian. Miss Stanley promoted diligently the cultural growth of the community thru its children by offering them the best in good books. In honor of her interest in reading facilities for the children, the library has purchased two books—"Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado" and Hansel and Gretel" by Robert Lawrence, in her memory. "Perhaps there are individuals in the community who would like to honor the memory of a friend or loved one by presenting a book to the library" members of the board comment. "This makes a more lasting memorial than do flowers, which last for only a day."

The library board states that it welcomes this type of memorial. The donor may make his own selection. An appropriate card will be sent to the family by the library board, and a memorial name plate will be placed in the book.

Among the books in memoriam added to the library are the following: Lake Huron, by Landon, in memory of William A. Kraemer.

More Earnings For All

The Senate War Contracts sub-committee, headed by Sen. James E. Murray, has prepared legislation which, in Senator Murray's words, is "a bill to guarantee full employment." It is important that all Americans know now the full implications of the Murray bill, and vigorous discussion of its aims and procedures are called for both in Congress and out, if we are to have peacetime prosperity.

Both right and left-wing economists agree that a high degree of prosperity cannot be achieved in the country without a high rate of production. They also agree that the problem now facing us is not one of learning how to produce but, rather, of seeing to it that there is sufficient consumption—for without sufficient consumption, the things we make will gather dust and rot in warehouses.

This, then, is the key to postwar prosperity—maintaining a high rate of production by stimulating a high rate of consumption.

Right now we have the greatest productive capacity in all history. Some of it was built for war and will have to be rebuilt for peace. That can and will be done—in the shortest possible space of time.

In rebuilding it, however, steps must somehow be taken to make sure we shall be able to buy the things our farms and our factories produce.

Some people feel that this can be done through government spending—and the fact is, that it can be, temporarily. The trouble is that such spending would only lead us further into debt—at a time when further debt would put the most severe strain on our economy.

Such spending can only be accomplished through further borrowing and borrowed money has to be paid back through taxes—taxes that eventually would eat into every pay envelope and so actually reduce purchasing power. As President Roosevelt has said, "Taxes are paid in the sweat of everyone who labors."

Obviously, therefore, it must be done on a more practical basis—and can be done on a basis of far-sighted business policy.

It can be done by using our productive capacity to provide us with more for our money in the things we buy, so that we can buy more—and so create more jobs and more earnings for all.

Under such a policy, continuing prosperity and a constantly increasing standard of living can be achieved and maintained for everyone in our economy.

Revive County Court Houses

According to the National Grocers Bulletin, regulations governing the food trade now fill 7,800 pages, of about 2,000 words each. It would take about six months to just read those regulations, and it is doubtful if any two district OPA offices would construe them the same.

Washington, D. C., has been aptly referred to as the court house of the nation, as well as the capital. Commenting on this, the Missoula, Montana, Times says: "All violations of countless regulations . . . reach an ultimate goal for settlement in Washington, D. C., where some unknown clerk scratches off a verdict. Recently a firm that was found guilty of several thousand OPA violations spent $25,000 to take the case to the United States Supreme Court. That body dismissed the case on the grounds that the ruling and regulation were so multitudinous that no business could be expected to comply with them all."

"However, no business man should take this as permission to violate OPA regulations—unless he has a surplus of $25,000 to defend himself in the United States Supreme Court."

It is for such reasons as these, and not because of opposition to the principle of rationing, that public demand is insistent that OPA practices be revised so they will operate along constitutional lines and provide the right of court appeal from its arbitrary edicts; that it be made to accommodate, instead of destroy historic and traditional methods of doing business; that the so-called "no higher price line limitation" be eliminated in favor of a system that permits a nominal mark-up above cost; and that state OPA officials be given much more authority to solve local problems, solution of which can now be delayed indefinitely in Washington, and that methods and regulations be simplified.

The Issue

"There are two groups in Congress—one which tolerates bureaucracy in government and one which insists that this shall be a government of law and not of men. That is the line upon which most of this controversial legislation is divided. It is a struggle which will determine whether the representatives of the people in Congress shall make the law under which we all must live, or whether in the future we shall live under directives and proclamations and orders made by the executive agencies. And I believe when it is settled that government by law will prevail over government by men."—James W. Mott, U. S. Representative from Oregon.

Master in Chancery

Knew All the Answers

NEWARK, N. J. — Advisory Master John A. Matthews agreed with a lawyer who was describing the high cost of domestics. "You don't have to tell me a thing about that," Matthews said. "Why last night I did the wash at home and before coming to town this morning I put up the clothes line."

Beds Down in Tar; 25 Cops Save Him

Pulled Out of Sticky Couch Like Bad Tooth.

JERSEY CITY.—It took 25 cops, equipped with all the ingenious devices with which police emergency squads are armed, 40 minutes to get Ignatz C. Banikonis out of bed.

Ignatz, being a bit overcome by the rigors of pay day night, had gone to bed in a 15-inch deep patch of tar, which aided perhaps by his supercharged body heat became a pallet so soft that it well nigh engulfed him.

Banikonis, 58, of Brooklyn, a track laborer for the Lehigh Valley railroad in Jersey City, was discovered deep in his gummy resting place at 8:45 a. m. by a pair of passers-by.

Just Half a Mustache.

Crossing a lot where an asphalt plant formerly was located they came upon what appeared to be the right half of a man lying on a shiny patch of black stuff. Fearing they had come upon the body of a weird murder case victim, they stirred the "corpse," which opened its right eye and yelled.

There was a left half of the body, too, they discovered—immersed to the center of the body line, including the left half of a luxuriant mustache.

They tugged and tugged, and Banikonis yelled with half his mouth. The tar held the buried half of him fast.

Lieut. Arthur Schultz and his emergency squad came and went to work on the half entombed Banikonis with gasoline, shovels and even longshoremen's hooks and knives.

"I've been 13 years on this squad, and I've seen some howlers," panted Schultz, mopping his brow. "But this is the one I'll always remember."

Finally they cut away Banikonis' clothes and the left half of his mustache, sheared off the tarry side of his hair and pulled him out like an aching tooth.

They rushed him, wrapped in a blanket, to Jersey City medical center and went to work on him with gasoline, kerosene and alcohol.

Hospital attaches said his condition was not serious—just messy.

Plane Wins Race With Death, Child Is Saved

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — Little Jimmy Crowell, 3½, was breathing easily after a race against death was won for him by an airplane pilot and medical science.

A chocolate coated peanut became lodged in Jimmy's windpipe at his home in Henderson, Nev., recently. He was taken to the Boulder City (Nev.) airport, where three passengers gave up their air liner seats so that the boy, his father, J. M. Crowell, the family physician, Dr. Donald McCormack, and an oxygen tank could ride.

Pilot Rudy Tuesdale made the 258 mile trip to Burbank, Calif., in 1 hour and 22 minutes, 18 minutes less than regular time. The plane was met by an ambulance and Jimmy was sped to Children's hospital in Hollywood, where the instruments needed for the operation were available. The father said that only 2 hours and 15 minutes elapsed from the time the peanut was swallowed until it was removed.

Yank Makes Wooden Leg While in a Prison Camp

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The American GI can do anything—even make his own artificial leg while a prisoner of war.

Pfc. Everette W. Collins of Weeksbury, Ky., a tankman wounded and captured in the Tunisian campaign, walked out of a German prison camp to be repatriated on an artificial leg he made while there, the army reported. He is at the army medical center here, awaiting the fitting of a permanent leg.

Collins turned out the leg with leather from the American Red Cross, fiber and plastics provided by the Germans, steel supplied by the English Red Cross and a foot from a discarded German wooden leg.

Squirrel Attacks Girl

While Walking Along Road

ANNAPOLIS, MD. — The squirrels around these parts may not be rabid, but they're certainly belligerent. Witness:

The county health department related that a squirrel attacked a girl who was walking along a road, biting her ankle, then climbing her dress to bite her on the wrist.

She brushed it off and ran, then turned to find the squirrel chasing her.

Another squirrel, killed after it chased a dog, was found to be free of rabies.

Bonds Over America

GOVERNOR'S MANSION

South Carolina's governor's mansion at Columbia is clothed in history and romance that links the old and the new Souths. Built in 1855, it was originally the officers' barracks of the Arsenal Academy. It escaped the fire that swept part of the city that year and came through the War Between the States unscathed. Simple in construction, it is cooled by dense foliage of the beautiful trees surrounding it. War Bonds have maintained a defense against injury to this historic gem and will guard it safely to peace.

Important Seams

One of the things to check when you are purchasing a garment is the strength of the seams. The simplest test for assuring a satisfactory seam is to count the number of stitches. Eight or less to the inch indicates a poorly made seam which may give way when strained or cleaned. To be sure that a seam will hold, you should be able to count 12 or more stitches to each inch.

Lyrical Rivers

Ireland's rivers are freighted as much with history and literature as with commerce. Short in mileage but long in sentiment are the Liffey, flowing into the Irish sea at Dublin; the Lee, entering Cork harbor; and the Boyne. Biggest river in the British Isles is the Shannon, 250 miles long. Its use is enlarged by canals connecting the river with Dublin, Elre's canal.

Ruses of Escaped German Prisoners Don't Fool Yanks

Hoover Praises Work of Law Enforcement Agencies in Trapping Fugitives.

WASHINGTON. — Down a Texas highway hiked two contrasting figures. One was over 6 feet tall and of sturdy frame; the other short, broad-shouldered, big tummy. They wore khaki shirts and shorts. Thumbs raised in hitch-hiker salute, they hailed a truck and climbed to the seat beside the driver. "Where you heading?" asked the driver.

"We're Boy Scouts," was the reply, "going to an international convention in Mexico."

The driver, suspicious of the men's accent and the hairy muscled-knotted legs extending from the shorts, halted at the nearest town, turned over the brawny "scouts" to the authorities—two more escaped German prisoners of war recaptured through civilian alertness.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says the nation's citizens and law enforcement agencies are performing a bangup G-man job in nabbing fugitive P. O. Ws.

Thank to this civilian alertness and local law enforcement officer cooperation, only about a dozen of nearly 550 escaped axis soldiers and sailors are still at large. Not one of the missing ones, as far as is known, has succeeded in returning to his homeland.

Some Other Examples.

Military authorities are charged with the responsibility of keeping prisoners of war in detention. The recapture of escaped prisoners, however, is the job of the FBI.

Here are a few additional examples of civilian participation in captures which the nation's FBI chief selected from his files:

Two Illinois truckers saw through a prisoner's attempted disguise and offered him a lift. They drove slowly toward Chicago, making several stops to telephone state police. At Addison, Ill., the helper telephoned the sheriff at Wheaton and, to be on the safe side, borrowed a shotgun.

Returning to the truck he saw the prisoner, suspicious of what the truckers were up to, running away. When the prisoner disregarded yells to halt, the trucker took aim, let go with a load of No. 6 shot and peppered the fleeing Nazi with 33 pellets. The prisoner was recaptured and removed to a hospital. He's recovering—face down.

In Mississippi an escaped war prisoner got a ride on a truck belonging to two Mount Olive, Miss., natives. Distrustful of the man's accent, they drove up to the headquarters of the town marshal at Mount Olive, forcibly delivered their Nazi corporal.

Hungry Escapee Gives Up.

Not all escapees have had to be retaken with force, however. One prisoner who fled from a Staten Island, N. Y., camp was back in the camp's chow line a little more than a day later. A hearty eater, he said he couldn't stand the hunger which accompanied his freedom and so he sneaked back the way he had sneaked out.

In Arkansas an escapee, after 24 hours' freedom, asked a farmer to drive him back to camp. He said he had intended making his way to Mexico but that after spending a day in the woods, harassed by mosquitos, he decided Hitler could get along without him.

Language difficulties frequently have figured in apprehensions, in one case causing a frustrated German to give himself up in disgust. The prisoner escaped from a camp in the state of Washington, four days later entered a Rainier, Ore., cafe and ordered a cup of coffee. After trying for some time to make himself understood in his feeble English, he reached for a paper napkin and pencil and wrote: "I am an escaped German war prisoner."

Sergeant Surprised to Learn That He Is Missing

PAWTUCKET, R. I. — "Well, what the hell!" said Sgt. Benny E. Cellilli of Pawtucket when he looked at a June 4 newspaper which carried a casualty list that included him among the missing.

He was listed as missing May 9 after a raid over Austria. Air force observers reported that 20 Nazi planes had attacked his crippled bomber. But by the time the notification made the papers, Benny was back home on leave, with only a tooth missing.

"Sure, the fortress was crippled," he related. "But we didn't crack up—we limped right back to our base."

Accident Halts Proposal, But Tar Wastes No Time

PHILADELPHIA.—Elmer Z. Kinman, waterfront second class in the United States navy, was out walking with Miss Dorothy Jackson and was in the act of asking her to marry him when she was struck by an automobile. While she received first aid at a hospital he bought a ring, slipped it on Dorothy's finger while they rode to the police station to make a charge against the driver of the car, and was told the marriage would be performed without charge by the magistrate.

Fort Logan, Colorado—Veteran of action over Europe as an aerial gunner, S/Sgt. Otto P. Palaske of 964 Spafford st., Antioch, is now stationed at the Fort Logan Convalescent hospital, near Denver, Colo.

Recently returned to the states after completing 57 combat missions, Palaske was sent to Fort Logan, one of several personnel distribution command convalescent hospitals, for the highly personalized and individualized treatment given to recuperating members of the Air force. Upon his arrival, he was assigned to a doctor who is acting as his medical and personal advisor, thus establishing a "family doctor" type of relationship between patient and physician.

Planned to allow men to return to their previous AAF assignment or civilian life in the best possible condition, the program at Fort Logan affords each convalescent soldier ample opportunity for reconditioning, recreation and sports in keeping with his physical condition. Patients also participate in vocational and avocational activities which not only help to accelerate convalescence by raising patient morale and avoiding boredom but also have special therapeutic value. For example, typing strengthens injured fingers; woodworking aids stiff shoulder muscles, and metal working assists in the recovery of wounded arms and wrists.

Entering the service Oct. 11, 1942, Palaske received intensive Air Force technical and combat training before going overseas. He is a member of the Fort Logan typing class and thus while convalescing is learning the standard touch typing system. He wears the Air medal with 2 oak leaf clusters and the Distinguished Flying cross.

"Just a few lines to let you know where I'm at and what I'm doing now.

"I spent just enough time out in California to get used to the warm weather and all sunshine, then they sent me back here to take a 4-engine instructors' course. If and when I finish that, I'll be teaching others how to fly the Flying Fortresses.

Pfc. Wilbur C. Turner says—

"Hello Folks—

"Just dropping you a few lines to let you know I'm still thinking of all the gang back home.

"I'm somewhere in southern France. Been to town and visited the Red Cross, because that's about the only place where you could talk to another American.

"This is beautiful country in the spring and during the summer, but kind of drab now. The buildings are nice to see, a lot different from those at home.

"There's plenty of wine, but not as good as our own brands. Bread is a lot different, too; the loaves are about 30 inches long.

"The roads are narrow and winding. It wouldn't be any place for some of those Sunday drivers back home.

"It's getting too dark to write, so I'll sign off, hoping to hear from someone back home, also from the paper. News of the old home town is always good to get."

IT'S SGT. JECEVICUS NOW, PVT. HOWARD HOHS SAYS

From Pvt. Howard Hohns, APO 126, New York, comes a blast calculated to warm up even an Illinois winter—

"Once more we are reading the Antioch News, which we have been doing, and enjoying, for the past two and one-half years that we have been overseas, through the courtesy of Sgt. Peter A. Jecevicus, formerly Pvt., T5 and line Corporal.

"All of the Sergeant's ratings were made the hard way, with nothing but sore muscles and sweat, and never was he mentioned one time in the Antioch News.

"We have read about other soldiers' promotions and hard knocks, and others being transferred from state to state.

"Now, Sirs, is that fair to a former Antioch man?

"He does not know that we are writing this letter, but he would want to send his love to his mother, father and other members of the family.

"May we always receive the Antioch News, which we have enjoyed immensely. Please keep it coming.

"Pete's pals—Howard Hohns, George Hazel, Ralph Fischer, Harvey Tatam, Just Bernie & Ross.

"You will receive this letter a bit late for the holidays, but we hope that everyone had an enjoyable Christmas and will have a happy and prosperous New Year."

(Ed. Note—Why doesn't someone tell us these things—sooner? We got our ears nearly taken off by someone's girl friend once because we didn't have the bf's latest address. Said we, "And how long have YOU known it?" And said she, "About three months." Families, government post offices and public relations headquarters of the various branches of the service have been grand about helping to keep the Boys in Service mailing list up-to-date, but additional co-operation is always helpful—and welcome!)

Jap Brutality Told by Yanks

Rescued Americans Tell of Being Starved, Beaten By Cruel Captors.

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HDQ., LEYTE, PHILIPPINES. — How 83 American officers and men who had been Japanese prisoners of war in the Philippines for two and a half years were rescued was revealed recently.

The men escaped from an American-torpedoed Japanese transport, evaded their captors' guns which were turned on the trapped prisoners, and were hidden by Filipino guerrillas until removed from the islands several weeks ago.

Two voluntarily remained behind with the guerrillas and the remainder are safe in New Guinea hospitals. Those still in the islands are Lieut. Richard L. Cook of Los Angeles and Staff Sgt. Joseph Cole, Plateau, Ala.

"All of the men are in good condition, except five recovering from bullet and grenade wounds," the announcement said. "None is listed as serious."

Forced to Labor.

The Americans had been held in the Davao, Mindanao, penal colony since the fall of Bataan and Corregidor. They were forced to labor on an air field, against their protests and with insufficient food and clothing.

When American planes started assaults on the southern Philippines, the Japanese began moving their prisoners to outer camps, evidently anticipating invasion.

The survivors were tightly packed in the hold of one ship in such a way when it was attacked by an American submarine. Their transport and at least two other enemy ships were sunk.

"The Japanese guards deliberately fired on the Americans trapped in the holds and seeking to escape from the sinking ship," the announcement said.

"Others were hunted down and killed in the water as they sought to swim for shore, two miles distant. Some were picked up by enemy patrol boats and at least 30 were later brutally executed."

"After escaping such savagery and hours of hardship, 83 of the American officers and men made shore and were cared for by Filipino guerrillas until picked up and taken south by submarines and planes."

Packed Tight in Hold

All the survivors told virtually the same story of their ordeal. Lieut. John J. Morris of Springfield, Ohio, acted as their spokesman. He said the men taken from Mindanao were marched to a vessel in Davao bay August 20. They were hemmed in by ropes, tied to the outside men in the group, and guarded by enemy soldiers with machine guns and automatic rifles.

They were packed so tightly in ships' holds that they could hardly sit down.

They traveled for 18 days in this close confinement, with insufficient food and less than a cup of water daily. All but the strongest were exhausted.

While working on the Mindanao air field, the men were housed in four small barracks. They received 600 grams of rice per man daily at first, but this was reduced to 300 grams plus a few vegetables. Limited amounts of salt were provided despite their work in the grueling sun, and on many days they received no salt.

Guards often beat the laborers with clubs to force more work. Later, alleging an escape attempt had been frustrated, the Japanese confiscated the prisoners' shoes, including those doing pick and shovel work.

Nazis Dare Not Give In, Goering Tells Workers

LONDON, ENGLAND. — Berlin quoted Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering as telling armament workers in a speech recently that the effects of defeat would be so terrible that Germany would "never dare capitulate." Goering said a German defeat could be avoided if the home front threw all it had into the forging of arms and the fighting front continued to "fight, fight, fight."

Last Minute Decision Wins Pastor's Praise

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. — Guests arrived for the fashionable wedding of Miss Matilda Horn, and James William Wilson III, Farmville, Va. But at a dinner party Miss Horn's father announced that the couple had decided they didn't want to be married after all. "I admire their courage," the pastor remarked.

One-Armed Blind Girl Weds Lover

Travels Half Way Across Country for Ceremony.

KANSAS CITY, KAN. — A 21-year-old sightless girl with only one hand, who came here by train, unaccompanied, from her home in Reedsport, Ore., and an army private just returned from three years overseas, were married recently.

The bride is Miss Vina Baldwin, small blond with a pleasant smile. The groom is Pvt. Foster Pierson, 30, Independence, Mo. The ceremony was in the offices of Judge Clark E. Tucker at the county courthouse.

The bride wore a wedding dress of blue silk with a white flower on the shoulder—a gift from Pierson while he was in Hawaii. They plan a brief honeymoon here, and if he can arrange it he will accompany her to the home of her parents in Oregon before returning to active duty at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Upon her arrival here, she cried, "It's you, it's you," as she recognized Pierson's footsteps.

The bride has taken care of herself for more than a year, living alone in a trailer and working as a dishwasher in a restaurant. In addition to keeping house, washing, ironing and cooking, she canned 13 dozen quarts of fruit, vegetables and fish this year.

The couple met five years ago while Pierson was working in her home town of Camas Valley, Ore. It was there when she was four years old that the bride lost her sight and hand while playing with dynamite caps.

Yank Patrol in Holland Finds Deserted Baby

WITH AMERICAN AIRBORNE FORCES IN HOLLAND. — Pfc. Fred Wilson of Marion, Ind., carried a deserted baby in one arm as his squad returned from a patrol a few miles into Germany.

"Boy, was it heavy by the time I got back," he said.

The soldier explained that he found the infant, a good-looking youngster, lying in a crib in the cellar of a house in a village which otherwise was completely deserted.

"I couldn't understand how anyone would leave a kid behind, especially in a house not likely to be hit by shells from either side. So I brought it along."

He turned the infant over to a Dutch nurse.

Capt. William Schmees of Fairview Village, Ohio, said his men had groused for a couple of days because so little happened, but then the Nijmegen area flared into one of the hottest spots with the fight for the town and its Waal river highway bridge.

"It was fairly heavy going," said Captain Schmees. "The boys are seeing plenty now, and they're satisfied."

Something About This Soldier—Three Wives

CARLYLE, ILL. — James King's wife thought it was strange when her husband took off his uniform as a second lieutenant in the army air forces when he returned to Wendover army air field, Utah. He told her he was switching to a buck private's uniform so he wouldn't have to be bothered saluting the non-commissioned men.

Suspicious, the wife, who was Miss Reva Baty, 20, of Carlyle before a one-week courtship during King's furlough home, investigated.

The Wendover commanding officer confirmed her suspicions her husband was a "buck private." State's Attorney Joseph Schlarmann also learned whirlwind courtships are no novelty for Private King; in fact, he had been married five times before he met Miss Baty. Only the first and fifth wives obtained divorces, according to Schlarmann.

Miss Baty has started divorce proceedings.

Jap Sniper Is Beheaded By Low-Flying Avenger

PEARL HARBOR, H. I. — Naval Lieut. Raymond Globokar, Chisholm, Minn., found a new way to eliminate Jap snipers during the battle for Tinian when his low flying Avenger observation plane decapitated a Jap perched in a tree.

The plane was skimming along at tree top level, Marine Capt. Grady Gatlin, an aerial observer, said. "I felt the plane strike something," he said. "I looked back to see what was left: A wooden platform and a piece of tin. To my surprise a Jap sniper was falling out of the tree."

The plane's crew, the report said, did not spot the sniper until they were almost upon the tree. Then, instead of zooming, the pilot decided to go right through.

Bonds Over America

KITTY HAWK

Distance was annihilated, war revolutionized by three years of glider flights and a 59-second motorized airplane test by the Wright brothers at Kitty Hawk, N. C. In 1928 residents of Kitty Hawk erected a monument to those historic tests: later the Federal Government dedicated the Wright Memorial Monument and a 350-acre park on Kill Devil Hill "in commemoration of the conquest of air by the brothers Wilbur and Orville Wright." Flights today of B-29's, fighter planes, scouts and transports prove how vital were those tests and inspire Americans to buy War Bonds for expansion of aviation to win complete victory. U. S. 50 YEARS AGO IN THE ANTIOCH NEWS JAN. 17, 1935

At the annual meeting of the Salem Mutual Fire and Lightning Insurance company, held at Salem, Wis., Jan. 8, the following officers were chosen: Ward Bloss, William Evans, N. M. Burgess, E. M. Bishop, J. S. Cull.

Heavy Taxpayers The following are the tax-payers of Antioch township who pay over $100 in taxes for the year 1934:

Thomas Wilton, $229.13; Williams Brothers, $412.22; W. S. Westlake, $101.30; Swift & Co., $375.65; Robert Strang, $150.91; C. C. Tiffany, $219.72; Merchants' Ice Co., $185.28; E. J. Lehmann, $413.57; Esch Bros. & Rabe, $178.12; Lewis Hatch, $120.21.

A representative of the NEWS visited the new home of George Webb this week, having been told that the house was an exceptional one in finish, architecture and arrangement. He was not disillusioned in any way, as the house is one of the finest in the village, finished in every particular, on the interior. Among other conveniences he noticed a movable folding bath tub, which is certainly a fine piece of furniture. It is neat and ornamental and occupies but little space when folded, and can be easily transported to any part of the house. Hot and cold water reservoirs are attached, and it is complete in every particular. In this modern day a house is not complete without a bath room, but this convenience occupies considerable room and extra outlay of money. The folding bath tub solves the question, and anyone who desires will find Mr. Webb willing to show him this most useful piece of furniture.

17 YEARS AGO JAN. 19, 1928

In the auditorium of the U. S. It was under the direction of the Navy and Marine post of the American Legion. The speaker was Dr. B. J. Cigrand, the founder of the American Flag Day association.

Prohibition Note—An Antioch lady, after sarcastically writing that the editor is supposed to know everything, asks the NEWS if liquor is being sold in this town. Answer: Madam: We have not heard of anyone giving it away.

Petitions are being circulated for the laying of a street connecting Depot street and Park avenue, and of another street to connect Orchard street with Lake street at the Victoria street with Lake street at the Victoria also calls for an alley midway between the proposed street and Main street, and parallel to both.

A new church will rise from ruins of the one destroyed by fire at Millburn last Saturday, according to plans formulated yesterday by church board and members of the First Congregational church, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Denman.

Tire Life

The national average tire life for passenger car tires in 1940 was about 22,000 miles. In the test on concrete roads in Iowa, a tire life of 40,000 miles was obtained for speeds ranging from 25 to 65 miles an hour. The tire mileage obtained by various drivers of Iowa highway commission cars ranged from 20,000 to 70,000 miles.

Water Rules Weather

Water rules the weather in Ireland. Warm winds scoop moisture from the Atlantic, blow mistily against the western hills, wet the coastal strip with heavy rains, keep the island's temperature 20 degrees to 30 degrees higher than American or European areas in the same latitude, assure a mild, damp climate.

Holds Vitamins

If vegetables are properly frozen very little vitamin A seems to be lost, the B vitamins are lost in a varying degree, depending on the amount of blanching. The amount of vitamin C which survives freezing varies but loss can be reduced by cooking vegetables without thawing and serving the remaining juice with it.

HANG ON!

AMERICA WON'T LET YOU DOWN

Blasted out of the sky in the battle for the Philippines, he waits in shark-infested waters—alone. Surely they'll send out rescue planes—surely they'll find him! Boy, what he wouldn't give for another crack at those Japs! For the chance to finish the fight.

He knows the war isn't over yet—not by a long shot. But do the folks back home know that, he wonders? Are they still working hard for victory—still buying bonds, and hanging onto the bonds they buy? Hanging on for dear life, as he is now?

Ask yourself these questions before you tell him not to worry—that of course America won't let him down. Ask them again when you start to cash in a War Bond you don't absolutely need to redeem—when more and more equipment is needed to finish the fight. Ships, tanks, planes—lots of planes. Like B-29's, costing $600,000 in War Bonds each. Or like rescue planes.

YOUR SHARE in Victory and Peace

Your War Bonds are evidence of your determination to back our fighting men for an early victory. They also represent your financial security and your postwar prosperity.

Don't cash a bond except in an emergency.

Before you cash it, ask yourself: Is the emergency so great that I must reduce my support and withdraw these dollars from the battle to win the war—and the peace?

You gain and your country gains when your bonds are not cashed until maturity.

Henry Morgenthau Jr.
SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

Bonds Over AmericaPOLK HOUSES

Columbia, Tenn., prizes its two Polk homes. It goes all-out in War Bond selling so that nothing may mar them. Samuel Polk's house, a two-story brick building with spacious rooms and French windows opening on to quaint balconies, was built in 1816. Next door is an almost duplicate home which Mr. Polk built for his daughter. The residence of James K. Polk, son, eleventh President of the United States, is a short distance away. The house where he entertained Andrew Jackson and Martin Van Buren during the campaign of 1844, when he was elected, is also of two stories and was erected in 1820. Relics of the budding years of this Nation that must endure, these homes inspire the purchase of War Bonds.

The Observer . . .

"What's in a name?" quoth Shakespeare — and would he be surprised!

Evanston, Ill., Jan. (Special)—Churchill, Stalin and Eden will meet at Northwestern university, but without President Roosevelt, sometime during the next few weeks.

Not the world-famous statesmen, of course. But coeds bearing these names who have just registered at the university for the second quarter now beginning.

Other students with famous names who will be meeting on campus paths are Patton, Stilwell and Dewey, not to mention Goering, Hess and three Kaisers!

Among names famous from Hollywood to the African jungles are Virginia Bruce, Frank Buck and Robert Burns. There is no Sinatra to charm the coeds, but there is a Crosby, Caruso, Wagner and Bach.

There's a Love, but also a Loveless. And two Toots and a Yonk, and a Peck and a Wack. Peez, Took, Somers, Sudar sound like baby talk, but they're students, too, as are Luney and Batty.

Students with presidents' names are Hoover, Harding, Wilson, Taft, Harrison, Grant, Jackson, Buchanan, Pierce and Adams. Names that go together are Long and Longest, Stout and Rotunda, Sweet and Low, Winter and Spring, and Black and White. Pick and Look are listed, and a Zoot but no Suit. On the geographical side are London, England, Ireland, Holland, Poland, Spain, Portugal, French and English.

Oh yes, we almost forgot—the Johnsons lead in number with 35, the Andersons are next with 30.

European Population

More people are alive in Europe today than existed in the entire world at any one time prior to 1650. Europe's 540 million people in 1939 were the descendants of about 100 million living in Europe in the middle of the 17th century. Since 1850 the population has doubled, since 1800 it has almost tripled, and in the last three centuries it has increased more than fivefold.

Mercury Dust

A mere 10 cents' worth of organic mercury dust can protect seeds against many seedling diseases which attack vegetables of the small seeded variety such as lettuce, carrots, beets and onions. As much of the dust as will cling to the end of a toothpick will do the job if shaken vigorously into the packet of seed before planting.

Cook Immediately

Vegetables that have begun to thaw must be cooked at once and never be refrozen. Frozen vegetable cartons can be stored in the freezing unit of a mechanical refrigerator for several days, but you must be sure vegetables do not partially thaw. If this happens, the food should be cooked at once.
